Approval for 2018 BC Venture Capital Tax Credit

30% Back to BC Investors & RRSP Eligible

Sidney, BC: Empire Hydrogen has received approval for the 2018 BC Venture Capital Tax Credit program. With this, British Columbia investors will receive 30% of their 2018 investment in Empire back as a tax credit from the BC Government. A maximum tax credit of $60,000 means that each BC individual can invest up to $200,000 in Empire Hydrogen equity under the program.

The British Columbia Venture Capital Program is designed to assist companies raise investment capital so as to enhance and diversify the provincial economy. With our concentration on reducing fuel consumption, reducing greenhouse gases and reducing smog causing tailpipe emissions, Empire Hydrogen clearly falls into the CleanTech subsection of the Venture Capital Program.

Of course Empire shares are also eligible for contribution to an RRSP, giving investors up to 45% in additional tax back for a total of up to 75% of the share purchase price.

After six years and $3.5 million investment in developing the world's most advanced H₂O₂ accelerant gas fuel enhancement system, Empire Hydrogen is now poised for full product commercialization. "We are looking for equity to launch our product across North America and around the World." Said Andrew Evans, Empire's Executive Vice President. "Today, a truck driver sits down at the lunch counter and pulls out his iPad to watch the latest truck crash videos. We want to actively promote the Empire system on these social media platforms. This is where we need our message to be in order to build this market over the next few years. Ten years from now the industry leader will be the company that best attacked the market in 2018."
